Dear Don,

I have just finished looking through your annual I saw only 4 ~~4~~ boys names and many, many girls. (Don't you like boys? I do.)

I can always remember you as being a ladies man you still are aren't you? I'll never forget when you were teaching the 2nd grade one day you told me I was cute. I must have turned about 12 different shades of pink and called you fresh.

Always stay as you are now and you're sure to make a success of life (at least with the ladies)

Faculty Snaps

We, the editors of the VIRGINIAN, feel that we here at Virginia High have music in our souls by the way our many activities roll along.

We are proud of our administration and faculty who at the tune of "September Song," take us through to June.

Our classes vary in degree from the Junior "Comin' in on a Wing and a Prayer" to "The High and Mighty" Seniors who are soon to step out of the picture.

To the tune of "Mutual Admiration Society" we hear our music departments and our clubs drumming out their many projects.

Loudly in our ears comes "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," and we take our hats off to the basketball team who went all the way to the State tournaments.

We, too, appreciate our advertisers who helped us so wonderfully in bringing to you this annual.

With the aid of songs, words, and pictures we would now like to invite you to come with us through the past year, 1956-57.

Dedication

We, the members of the Class of 1957, wish to take this opportunity to express a word of thanks and appreciation to a man who has done more than words can express for each student at Virginia High. For his untiring service, invaluable guidance and assistance, and the life he has led before us, we, the students of the Senior Class, dedicate our 1957 VIRGINIAN to Mr. Roscoe Hall.

The Past

This Is Your Life, Seniors!

It has been a long, hard journey but you have had a lot of fun and achieved your goal of graduating from high school.

Six years ago you entered Virginia Junior High as a group of big-eyed, week-kneed kids determined to show everyone what you could do. Your first chance came when you presented the operetta, "Gypsy Rover."

In the eighth grade you began to change classes and prepare for the next four years of high school; thus feeling that you were a part of the student body.

At the beginning of your Freshman year you were given the privileges of electing class officers and choosing your own subjects. William Worley was elected class president.

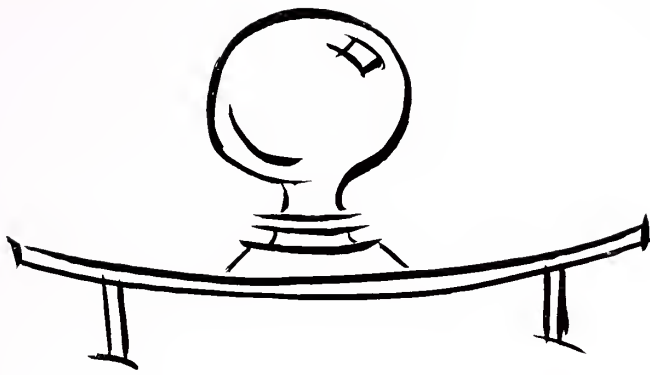

As you entered the Sophomore year, under the capable leadership of Cynthia Scott, there was a brand new school in which to start.

The test of your determination and ability came in the Junior year. You elected Charles Faulkner to lead you through this very successful turn of events. Then you started to work on the numerous outside activities. First came the magazine sale and next the presentation of the Junior play, "On Borrowed Time." The biggest undertaking, the Spring Festival, in which Sue Carter and Eddie Cantor were elected king and queen, was very successful. The year closed with a banquet in honor of the Seniors.

Well, finally it came, that year 1956-57. You were now Seniors! You were indeed a proud group when those beautiful class rings arrived. For that last year at "Dear Old Virginia High" Doug Smith was chosen class president, and Kay Hudson S. C. A. president. Many things happened that year — dances, football games, plays, contests, basketball tournaments, and conventions, but perhaps one of the most exciting was the trip to New York. As the days slipped quickly by and Class Night, Baccalaureate Service and Graduation came and went you were a little sad to leave the familiar halls of V.H.S.

The Future

The population of the world has become so great that there is not room for any more people on the earth. To meet this desperate situation of the rocket age in which we are living, cities are being built in outer space. The well-known "Class of '57" is building one of these unique cities in the "wild blue yonder." They will inhabit the city they build and they will call it "Oldsmobile" after the famous "Rocket 88."

Plans for the construction of the city are being drawn by the Seniors from the Mechanical Drawing Class. These plans are nearly completed and the construction will soon get underway.

After the city is built it will have as its mayor, Doug Smith, the former "Class of '57" president. The other former class officers will be members of the mayor's council.

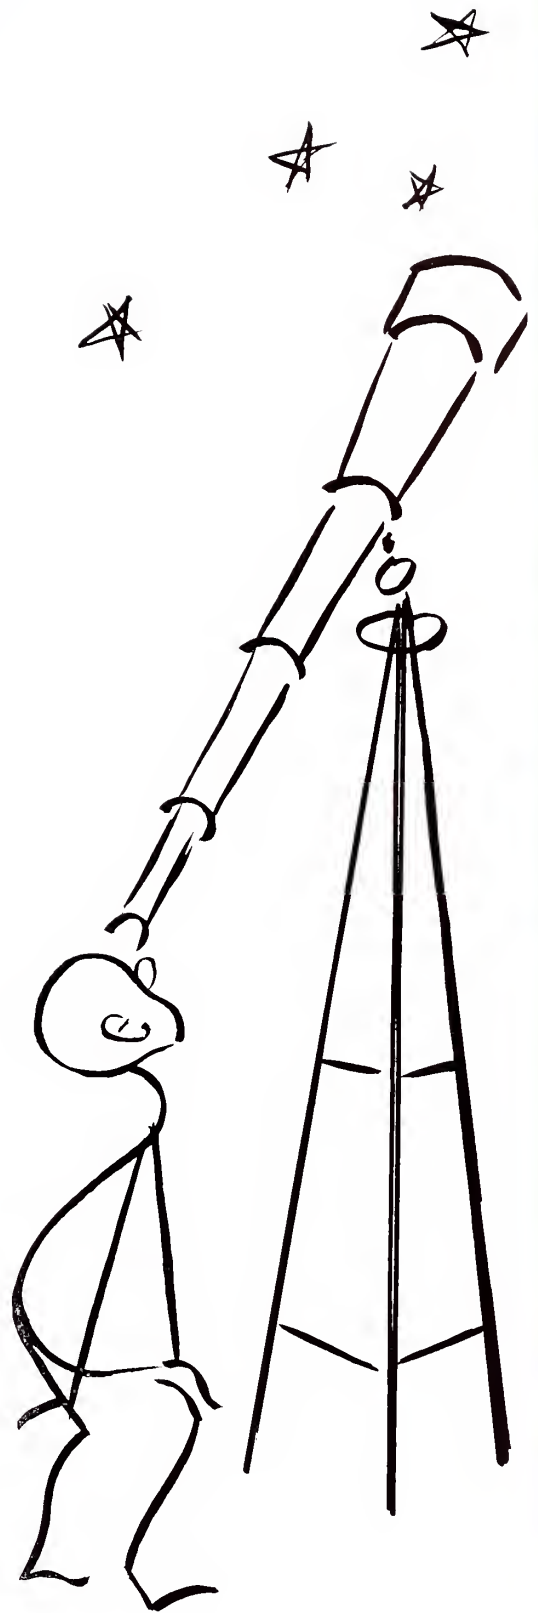

The S.C.A. president, Kay Hudson, a member of this class, will be police chief of the city of "Oldsmobile." She will have as her law officers the famous basketball and football players from this class. Because of the basketball stars' ability to shoot with great accuracy, they will be used to guard against attacks by the little green men from outer space. The husky football stars will keep order in the city itself, and they will tackle any trouble that comes along.

The need of clothing and food for the citizens of "Oldsmobile" will be looked after by the "Class of '57" Home Economics girls. These girls will manage the "Nellie Gray Manufacturing Company," makers of streamlined space suits, and the "Pay-More Food Store," where you buy special outer-space food. The "Pay-More Food Store" is located at "X-1, Mars Street."

There are various other fields of business which will have to be filled such as teaching, medicine, research, etc. These various fields will be taken over by the members of this class, each one in his specialized category.

Each Senior is well prepared for his future occupation. Just as soon as the city of "Oldsmobile" is completed, the "Class of '57" will move in and make it one of the greatest cities out of this world.

Opportunities...

... in the industrial world today are unlimited. Automation, atomic energy, a rapidly increasing population — all point to a period of unprecedented growth in industrial life of the nation and particularly of the South.

Like many others, the textile industry is just scratching the surface of its own latter-day revolution. This revolution began less than a quarter century ago with the introduction of man-made fibers.

Burlington Industries, which pioneered in the production of fabrics from man-made fibers, has in the space of three decades grown to be the world's largest and foremost textile concern. Burlington has continued to pioneer in the development and application of new fibers and new fabrics, and through broad diversification now includes not only man-made, but also natural fibers and countless blends of the two in its manufacturing domain.

For young men and women thinking in terms of a career, the textile industry today offers opportunity "without bounds" in manufacturing, merchandising, research, development and design, and many other related fields.
